

3rd December 2018

Dear Parent/Carer

Our standards of uniform and student appearance are very important to us at Trentham Academy; it reaffirms our ethos and strengthens our sense of communal identity. Our behaviour policy, due to go to the Governors for review this month, will serve to provide extra clarity regarding our expectations of student appearance. Once this has been before the Governing body, we will share the policy and guidance with you, as parents, so that you are aware of the Academy's expectations. In the meantime, if your child is intending to have their hair coloured, cut, or styled in a way which may be considered extreme by the Academy, please feel free to contact myself at the Academy to discuss.

I do hope that the updated policy and guidance (due to be released before the December break) will help to clarify and define what we are looking for in ensuring our young people are outstanding ambassadors of the Academy in both character and appearance.

Yours sincerely

Mike Whittingham
Headteacher
